IntNSA's 41st Annual Educational Conference
Mobilizing All Nurses to Address Substance Use: The Hidden Faces of Addiction

Our nation is in the midst of an opioid epidemic, and communities are reeling from the losses inflicted by related overdoses and deaths. This conference provides a forum for discussion and networking on improving the quality of addictions nursing medical care for all patients in addictions. Presenters discuss cutting-edge issues important to the future of addictions nursing care and their places in the addictions nursing continuum.

IntNSA represents the specialty of addictions nursing and is committed to the advancement of excellence in addictions nursing practice through advocacy, collaboration, education, research and policy development.

More than 200 registered nurses from across the country and abroad will visit the displays throughout the day, especially during the dedicated exhibit time at morning and afternoon breaks. Making a difference on the growing health issue of addictions requires the building of partnerships.

This conference includes presentations and workshops for nurses committed to the prevention, intervention, treatment and management of addictive disorders with a focus on practice issues facing the addictions field today.
