Important dates

The early registration deadline is August 31, 2018.

Conference Description

This conference focuses on the requisite knowledge, skills and abilities for any nurse who cares for persons with substance use, abuse and addictions. Providing patient centered care through prevention, screening, treatment and recovery services is best brought about when interdisciplinary teams work together to accomplish effective and successful patient care outcomes. Interdisciplinary collaboration utilizes the Institute Of Medicine’s core competencies of evidence-based practice, informatics, and quality assurance to promote positive lifestyle changes. Attendees will increase their skills and knowledge base for collaborative practice with healthcare colleagues to further patient centered care for those with substance use disorders.

IntNSA’s Mission

To advance excellence in nursing care for the prevention and treatment of addictions for diverse populations across all practice settings through advocacy, collaboration, education, research and policy development.
Disclaimers

Weather & Attire

In most years, Denver averages a daily maximum temperature for October that’s between 61 and 69 degrees Fahrenheit (16 to 20 degrees Celsius). The minimum temperature usually falls between 34 and 38 °F (1 to 3 °C).

The days in Denver continue to cool quickly during October. By the end of the month, the temperature has dropped around 11 °F (6 °C) below what it was at the start.

Nearly every October day warms to over 50 °F (10 °C) in Denver. The city averages 3 days this month when the thermometer reaches into the 80s °F (over 26 °C). Temperatures above 90 °F (32 °C) are not expected here during October. Sometimes in October the mercury remains below freezing for an entire day.

On an average of 9 nights, the thermometer dips to freezing or below. About once a decade, weather as cold as 10 °F (-12 °C) has descended on Denver in October.
Tour through the Foothills
Saturday, October 6

http://www.intnsa.org/2018/event

This four-hour tour through the Foothills is a great quick escape from the city. Explore our closet playground and get a taste of why we have chosen to live in this fantastic state. Experience the famous Red Rocks Amphitheater, spectacular vistas and some unique small towns. Drive through the scenic Bear Creek Canyon; pass mountain lakes and downtown Evergreen. Follow Lariat Loop and enjoy great views of the Rockies and the Plains while driving through Golden back into Denver.

Lunch is included and is typically box lunch style, sandwich, chips, cookie, fruit and is usually enjoyed at Red Rocks as a picnic style lunch, weather permitting. If weather is looking poor, we will adjust lunch plans accordingly.
